HISTORICAL NOTE

Cuming County is located in the second tier of counties from the Missouri River, in the northeastern part of Nebraska. It lies west of Burt and north of Dodge and is part of the Elkhorn Valley.

The Territorial Legislative Assembly passed an act in 1855 that defined the boundaries of Cuming county. They were approved on March 16, 1855. The boundaries were redefined by an act approved February 12, 1857 and January 10, 1862. An election was held at West Point on October 12, 1858 to elect county officers. West Point was chosen to be the county seat in the same election.

In February of 1857, the Nebraska Settlement Association chose the town-site of what is now West Point. Uriah Bruner, a member of that association, wrote that West Point was laid out in March 1857. It was resurveyed in 1870. The town was first named New Philadelphia in the summer of 1857. The name was soon changed to West Point because it was the most westerly point that had been settled in the Elkhorn River Valley.

A post office was established in West Point on May 15, 1858. On October 29 of that year, West Point was incorporated by the legislature and on May 17, 1869 by the County Commission. At that time, the probate judge of Burt County transacted the business of the Cuming County Commission. West Point also became a branch office of the U.S. Land Office. The first courthouse and jail were completed in the spring of 1874 at a cost of $40,000. The courthouse was demolished and in 1955 a new one was built.

In 1857, Benjamin B. Moore and his family were the first white settlers. The population of Cuming County was 61 in 1860. It had grown to 2,964 in 1870. The population reached its peak in 1900 at 14,584. By the 1980 census, the population was 11,664.

The first school district was organized on April 11, 1864. Currently (1990) there are eighteen school districts.

On June 17, 1870, an election was held to issue bonds for the building of the Fremont, Elkhorn, and Missouri Valley Railroad. The road to West Point was completed on November 25, 1870. This Bancroft, in Cuming County, was the home of John Gneisenau Neihardt (1881-1973). He was named Nebraska's poet laureate in 1921 and was named to the Nebraska Hall of Fame in 1974. The Neihardt Center and his home in Bancroft are open to the public. Both were operated by the Nebraska State Historical Society until July 1, 1990 when the Neihardt Foundation took over the operation of these facilities.

The county was named in honor of Thomas B. Cuming, acting governor of the Territory of Nebraska in 1854-1855 and 1857-1858.
